Digital Film Tools DFT 1.2.1 (x64)

This version fixes problems with black or white movies in both Standalone and Collection modes, adds support for the following features, and lots of other small fixes and enhancements: DFT_Standalone.exe DFT_Collection.exe Available in these languages: English French Portuguese Installing DFT. Here is the command line that worked for me. The /Concatenate parameter tells the Ghostscript engine to inject the DFT postscript interpreter into the main text interpreter. The /update parameter tells Ghostscript to reread the PDF. Replace BOUL03008.PDF with the name of the PDF file. Ghostscript -sBOUL03008.pdf -dNOPAUSE -dBATCH -dSAFER \ -dAutoRotatePages=/None -dNewPageN=1 -sDEVICE=ps2write \ -oDfT_Standalone.ps \ -dConcatenate=true -dPDFSETTINGS=/OPAQUE \ -sOutputFile=%TEMP%\Standalone.ps \ -dMaxSubsetPct=90 -f -t -u A: Not an answer to your question, but you could easily do that using a bash script and OpenOffice. I created a script to show the text of a PDF using the OpenOffice Calc application: #!/bin/bash file='BOUL03008.PDF' openoffice -background none -noprompt -nocalc \ -in $file -text -title "First page of the document" It's a one-liner, and it's quite fast. Here's the result: Obviously, you need to adjust the filename, format and margins, but there's a lot of options and you could adapt that example for your needs. Friday, December 2, 2010 Bontri. This Pidapite festival celebrates a connection between an ancestor of the Minanis (local indigenous peoples) and the Jesus Christ. The frescoes were from the XVI or XVII century. A so lovely Festival organized in the village "Bontri" near Tandil. The festivities started yesterday and continue until November 18th. This " 6d1f23a050
